

SHUT DOWN ORDER IS IN EFFECT TODAY

ALL TWIN CITY
PLANTS ARE CLOSED
FOR FIVE DAYS
EXCEPT THE SHOPS

DR. GARFIELD'S DRASTIC ORDER
IS BEING OBEYED TO THE LET-TER BY LOCAL INDUSTRIES.

LAUNDRIES GET ONE DAY ONLY

BOX AND BASKET FACTORY, AL-
THOUGH BURNING NO COAL,
CAME WITHIN THE PROVISIONS OF SWEEPING RULING.

The voice of industry is hushed in the Twin Cities today. In obedience to the dictates of Dr. Harry Garfield, national fuel administrator, every manufacturing plant in Albany and Decatur, with the exception of the L. & N. shops, closed their doors with the end of business last night and will not resume their wonted activities until five days have passed.

Because of the suspension of activity, hundreds of persons who earn their bread by the sweat of their brow are today idle. Among the plants that are closed are those of the American Oak Extract Co., the Decatur Cornice & Roofing Co., the Decatur Hosiery Mills, the Decatur Box & Basket factory, the Albany Silk Mills, the Compress, Albany Broom Works, the Albany Overall Factory, the cotton oil mills, and many other smaller concerns. Owing to the fortunate fact that the L. & N. shops are under government control and must remain open in order to keep the trains moving, the more than 2,000 men employed there are still at work, which will do much to keep business conditions here "as usual" during the period of industrial lethargy.

All Do Their "Bit."

Without exception, the manufacturers here obeyed the drastic and unexpected order of the fuel administrator cheerfully, realizing that this is but one of the burdens of war. They showed that same determination as has the American soldier to win the war, regardless of the cost. A number of the plants announced yesterday, as soon as they were apprised of the scope of the mandate issued from Washington, that they would be out of business until conditions were again normal.

There was some doubt today as to whether the laundries should be closed, and on representation by the Home Steam Laundry that it had on hand several hundred dollars worth of work that would be damaged if not delivered, Fuel Administrator John Patterson granted the laundries permission to remain open today only. They will be closed tomorrow.

One of the concerns which does not burn coal, but which closed down nevertheless, was the Decatur Box and Basket Factory. Sawdust is the principle fuel consumed there, and the plant is working on war orders. Owing to the fact, however, that its remaining open would benefit competing concerns that used coal, it also came within the scope of the sweeping order.

Bottling Works Close.

It was announced later in the day that the bottling works would come under the provisions of the shut down order and that both were closed until the five-day period has expired.

Congress Ramps On Mr. Garfield

(International News Service.)

Washington, Jan. 18.—Fairly bursting with wrath over the fuel administration's refusal to heed its request to withhold the industry suspension order, the senate this afternoon plunged into another violent debate over the coal situation. Piles of telegrams from all parts of the country were read into the records by senators.

Senator Smith, in speaking, called the conditions "shameful" and demanded that the "wings be clipped of those that seek to exercise authority never granted them."

"Our enemies are most jubilant over this order," he said.

(International News Service.)

Washington, Jan. 18.—"Dr. Garfield has been made the goat of Director General of Railroads McAdoo," Representative Snyder of New York charged on the floor of the house this afternoon in a bitter attack on the fuel suspension order.

"The coal order is nothing but camouflage to conceal the inability of the director general to handle the freight congestion," he said.

RUSSIA PRACTICALLY AT WAR NOW WITH ITS FORMER ALLY

Bolsheviki Issues Orders For the Arrest of King Ferdinand

(International News Service.)

Copenhagen, Jan. 18.—Martial law has been declared in Petrograd by the Bolsheviki government, a dispatch from Petrograd this afternoon quoted Bolsheviki officials as saying that this step was necessary to maintain order during the meeting of the constituent assembly. It is thought by the Bolsheviki government, a dis. of the Petrograd garrison.

(International News Service.)

London, Jan. 18.—All passenger traffic in Russia will be suspended from Jan. 21 to Feb. 2, with a few exceptions, said a wireless dispatch from Petrograd this afternoon. This step is being taken to facilitate the transportation of food to large cities and to the front.

CITY FARMERS ARE URGED TO GROW BETTER GARDENS

W. L. WOOD HEARD LAST NIGHT AT THE BOARD OF COMMERCE.

W. L. Wood, of Brookhaven, Miss., acceptably filled the appointment of H. S. Mobley at the Albany Board of Commerce last night. The speaker, obligingly stated some of the things about conserving home garden products, the especial task of Mr. Mobley. Drying sweet and Irish potatoes, beets, turnips, okra and everything of the garden except watermelons, was fully explained.

"If you will make a wire basket, and suspend it over your cook stove, you have your drying outfit complete. Your hands held between the hot stove and the basket in which you have your vegetables will tell you the right drying temperature. When your hands become so hot that you can bear the heat, though with discomfort, then you have the right drying temperature. Turnips I have tried and they are as delicious to eat when served after so drying as when fresh. To have suitable receptacles for your dried garden products, take common flour sacks, but treat them with paraffine so as to make them air tight. You prepare the paraffine by dissolving it in about two gallons of gasoline, which is applied to the sacks cold. By this simple drying you conserve absolutely all of your garden crop."

The Bugless Potato.

Though, according to the speaker, no scientific test has been made to prove absolutely that a certain brand of Irish potatoes will not "bug," it is a fact that Mr. Mobley has about 25 bushels of bugless Irish potatoes, and a few bushels of them he is donating in small amounts to farmers in the South.

Mr. Wood, speaking of the use of all vacant lots this year for gardens, advised that the city combine efforts, get the seeds and go as far as breaking up all the available vacant lots as soon as practicable. He said that a chart should be prepared by authority.

Full Text of Drastic Order Signed by Fuel Administrator Garfield

The text of the order signed yesterday by Fuel Administrator Garfield follows:

United States Fuel Administration,
Washington, D. C., Jan. 17, 1918.

Regulation making provision for a more adequate supply of fuel for railroads, domestic consumers, public utilities and other uses necessary to the national security.

The United States fuel administrator, acting under the authority of an executive order of the president of the United States, dated August 23, 1917, appointing said administrator, in furtherance of the purposes of said order and of the purposes of the act of congress therein referred to, approved August 10, 1917, and finding it essential effectively to carry out the provisions of this act to make provision for more adequate supply of fuel for railroads, domestic consumers, public utilities and for other use necessary to the national security in certain parts of the United States, hereby makes and prescribes the following regulation:

Section 1. Until further order of United States fuel administrator, all persons selling fuel in whatever capacity, shall in filling their contracts or orders now on hand, give preference to necessary current requirements of: Railroads, domestic consumers, hospitals, charitable institutions, army and navy cantonments, public utilities, by-product coke plants supplying gas for household use, telephone and telegraph plants, shipping for bunker purposes, the United States for strictly governmental purposes (not including factories of perishable food or of food for necessary immediate consumption and municipal, county or state governments for necessary public uses. Any tonnage remaining after the foregoing preferred shipments have been made may be applied in filling any other contracts or orders.

Sec. 2. On the following days, namely January 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22, 1918, the state fuel administrators and their accredited representatives in the various communities in the territory in which this regulation applies are hereby empowered and directed to divert such fuel as arrives in such communities in carload lots to meet the current requirements and to provide an adequate and normal supply for such consumers of fuel as are specified in section one thereof.

Sec. 3. On the following days, namely, January 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22, 1918, and also on each and every Monday beginning January 21, 1918, and continuing up to and including March 25, 1918, no manufacturer or manufacturing plant shall burn or use power derived from fuel for any purpose, with the following exceptions:

(A) Plants which necessarily must be continuously operated seven days each week to avoid serious injury to the plant itself or its contents may use only such quantity of fuel as is necessary to prevent such injury to the plant or its contents.

(B) Manufacturers or plants manufacturing perishable foods or foods for necessary immediate consumption.

(C) Manufacturers of food not perishable and not necessary for immediate consumption may burn fuel to the extent authorized by the fuel administrator of the state in which such plant is located or by his duly authorized representative upon application by the United States food administrator.

(D) Plants necessary to the printing and publication of daily papers may burn fuel or use power derived therefrom as usual, except that on every Monday from January 21 to March 25, 1918, inclusive, they may burn fuel or use power derived therefrom only to such extent as is necessary to print and publish such editions as plants customarily print and publish on legal holidays other than the Sabbath; or, if such plants do not customarily print or publish any editions on such legal holidays, they may burn fuel or use such power to such extent as is necessary to issue one edition on the said Mondays.

(E) Printing establishments may burn fuel on January 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22, 1918, to such extent as is necessary to issue current number of magazines and other publications periodically issued.

Sec. 4. On each Monday beginning January 21, 1918, and continuing up to and including Monday, March 25, 1918, no fuel shall be burned (except to such extent as is essential to prevent injury to property from freezing) for the purpose of supplying heat for:

(A) Any business or professional offices, except offices used by the United States, state, county or municipal governments, transportation companies, public utility companies, telephone or telegraph companies, banks, trust companies, physicians or dentists.

(B) Wholesale or retail stores, or any other stores, business houses or business buildings whatever, except that for the purpose of selling food only, stores may maintain necessary heat on any of the specified days until 12 o'clock noon; and except that for the purpose of selling drugs and medical supplies, only, stores may maintain necessary heat throughout the day and evening.

(C) Theatres, moving picture houses, bowling alleys, billiard rooms, private or public dance halls or any other place of public amusement.

Sec. 5. On each Monday beginning January 28, 1918, and continuing up to and including March 25, 1918, no fuel shall be burned for the purpose of heating rooms in which intoxicating liquors is sold or served on those days.

Nothing in this regulation shall be construed to forbid the heating of restaurants, hotels or other places in which meals are served, but in which no intoxicating liquor is sold or served on the said Mondays.

Sec. 6. No fuel shall be burned on any of the Mondays specified in the foregoing section for the purpose of supplying power for the movement of surface, elevated, subway or suburban cars or trains in excess of the amount used on the Sunday previous thereto.

PLANTS ARE QUICK TO OBEY RULING OF FUEL DICTATOR

Millions of Men Idle and Thousands of Industries Closed For Five Days

GARFIELD OVERRIDES THE AMERICAN SENATE

President Backs Up His Fuel Boss and Expects That Conditions Will be Relieved

(International News Service.)

Washington, Jan. 18.—The full powers of the department of justice will be utilized in the enforcement of Dr. Garfield's coal order, it was announced this afternoon.

Officials of the fuel administration have only to prefer charges against violators in order to get action.

(International News Service.)

Washington, Jan. 18.—Fuel Administrator Garfield's coalless holidays got under way with general obedience to his orders, according to reports reaching the fuel administration from state agents today. There was much confusion over interpretations of certain provisions of the edict, and Garfield and his assistants were snowed under a mass of appeals from all parts of the east. One of the first mix-ups developed over the question of factories working on war contracts for uniforms, tenting etc. At the fuel administration it was positively stated that such plants were not exempt from the operation of the order. At the war department it was stated emphatically that they were.

The fuel administrator and Director of Railways McAdoo were working in co-operation today to clear the rails for the passage of bunker coal to the hundreds of ships tied up in Atlantic ports. All of their energies will be directed to this problem until it is solved. One of the first rulings today was regarding the operation of artificial ice plants. The administration ruled that where one plant operating at top speed could supply a city or town it would do so. The local administration was to decide in every instance.

(International News Service.)

Washington, Jan. 18.—White House officials today broke silence on the Garfield coalless day order and declared unequivocally that President Wilson stands solidly behind the fuel administrator in his efforts to solve the fuel problem. These officials expressed the utmost optimism that the order would have the desired effect.

Congress to be Wary Hereafter

(International News Service.)

Washington, Jan. 18.—Raging in its impotency to halt the fuel administration's industry suspension order, congress was determined today to guard scrupulously in the future against the granting of broad blanket powers which were bestowed so lavishly upon the executive department last summer.

Food Manufacturers To Be Exempt

(International News Service.)

Washington, Jan. 18.—Directly contradicting the statement of the fuel administration that there will be no blanket exemptions from the shut down order and adding to the general confusion which has left business uncertain just where it is, the food administration issued a statement this afternoon pointing out that food-stuff manufacturers are not affected by Dr. Garfield's action.

Private List of Favored Industries

Washington, Jan. 18.—After it was admitted by the fuel administration this afternoon that there would be a list of industries in addition to 23 steel plants exempted from obedience to the coalless day order, it was stated the list would not be made public. The reason assigned was that the publication of the list would add to the confusion by increasing the flood of appeals for exemption from industries less vital to the war. It was also learned that there have been a great number of rulings today on disputed points but none of these will be announced.

Local Administrators to Apportion Fuel

Washington, Jan. 18.—Local fuel consumers in the preferred list, according to instructions issued this afternoon.

Industrial Paralysis Grips Nation

(International News Service.)

Washington, Jan. 18.—Industrial paralysis resulting from the issuance of Dr. Garfield's shut-down order to the manufacturing plants of the nation east of the Mississippi river, prevailed today.

Early reports reaching the fuel administrator indicated that his order was being obeyed. Complete reports have been called for. All local fuel administrators have been made special policemen to see that the order is enforced. It was not expected, however, that complete details as to observance would be available here.

FORMER PREMIER OF FRANCE A TRAITOR.

A further idea of the ramifications of German intrigue is shown in the arrest of Joseph Callaux, former premier of France. As has now become the custom, evidence implicating the statesman was dug up from the bulging box of traitorous documents now in the possession of Secretary Lansing.

In an intercepted message, Count Von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to the United States, cables his home government: "He sees through the policy of England perfectly. He does not anticipate the complete overthrow of France. He sees in the war now a struggle for existence on the part of England." Such words and such arguments are the kind that are made in Germany. They do not represent the thought of patriotic Frenchmen, who realize that England was in the war primarily to save Belgium and France. They were inspired by German gold, with which this treacherous diplomat was purchased.

Still further evidence against Callaux was secured through his negotiations with Bala Pasha and also by the opening of a safe at Florence Italy, in which he had deposited private papers. There is no longer any doubt but that he had plotted with the enemy; that he sought to destroy the land by which he had been honored and trusted. This is not a French trait. It smacks more strongly of the ingratitude of the Hun.

The publication of the intercepted cablegrams throws another strong sidelight on German methods. Von Bernstorff had taken the pains to have the Berlin foreign office suppress all laudatory mention of Callaux by the Prussian press, a precaution intended to protect the Wilhelmstrasse tool from suspicion at home. It is made quite plain that any statements coming from the newspapers of the Fatherland are to be regarded only as the inspired mouthings of the military element and not as a frank statement of actual conditions.

Callaux is now safely locked in jail, awaiting the day of trial. His usefulness to the central empires is at an end, for the spotlight of publicity has revealed him in his true character and has robbed him of further opportunity to betray his people. He is branded as the one conspicuous Judas France has produced since the war began.

State Food Administrator Orders Collateral Industries to Shut Down

The following self-explanatory telegram was received late Wednesday by the Daily:

Albany-Decatur Daily:
After consultation between the fuel and food administrators for Alabama it was decided that all collateral industries, supporting food industries, including peanut and cotton oil mills in Alabama should shut down for five days beginning tonight at 12 o'clock and thereafter they shall shut down each Monday for ten consecutive Mondays. All plants indicated except those running by electricity generated by water power alone are included in this order. Please publish.

Alleged Norfolk Spies Released

(International News Service.)
Baltimore, Jan. 18.—Frederick Spornman and Marius Asch, suspected of being connected with Walter Spornman, who was arrested in Norfolk suspected of being a German agent, were released from custody here today. There was insufficient evidence, officials said, to warrant holding the two men.

ALL SHIPS WILL GET THEIR ORDERS FROM ONE SOURCE

(International News Service.)

Washington, Jan. 18.—The overseas transportation problem so far as it affects the nearly 100 vessels in the transport service of the navy, has been solved. All of these vessels, which include some of the largest afloat, have been placed at the direction of the Naval Overseas Transportation service. Hereafter, they will be operated as a single unit and will be directed from Washington. Included in the vessels that come under this plan are the various transports, supply ships and the like which have been under the operation of the navy department. By bringing these vessels under a single direction their efficiency has been more than doubled, officials said today.

PLENTY OF PHOTOS REQUIRED OF ENEMY ALIENS REGISTERING

(International News Service.)

German enemy aliens who are required to register, beginning Feb. 4, must furnish four photographs of themselves to the registration officer, and must also leave behind an imprint of their left thumb. These instructions are contained in the printed regulations mailed out by U. S. Marshal Henry A. Skeggs, who has written the Daily as follows:

I have been requested by the attorney general of the United States to ask you to publish the time and place of registration of German alien enemies.

The registration will begin Feb. 4 at 6 a. m., and will continue thereafter each day to and including Feb. 9 at 6 p. m.

In cities of 5,000 and over (1910 census) the registration will be in charge of the chief of police; in suburban districts the registration will be in charge of the postmasters, and held at the postoffices.

I enclose copy of "Rules and Regulations" and call your attention to page 13, "Suggestions and Instructions to Registrants," and ask that you publish this, and any other information you find in the rules that you think will be helpful.

The department will appreciate your help in this.

Yours truly,
H. A. SKEGGS,
U. S. Marshal.

Suggestions and Instructions to Registrants.

Persons required to register should understand that in so doing they are giving proof of their peaceful dispositions and of their intention to conform to the laws of the United States.

Every registrant should read carefully the form of registration affidavit handed to him and ask the registration officer for explanation on all points not clear to him before attempting to fill out the blanks. Registration officers are instructed to give registrants all possible aid in the way of explanation and advice.

Each registrant is required to furnish four unmounted photographs of himself, not larger than 3 by 3 inches in size, on thin paper, with light background. All four photographs should be signed by the registrant across the face of the photographs, so as not to obscure the features, if the applicant is able to write.

Three blank forms of registration affidavit must be completely filled out by the registrant by his representative (with the exception of the blanks indicated to be filled out by the registration officer and the description of the registrant and the placing of finger prints on the blank) and must be produced by the registrant personally to the registration officer and be signed and sworn to by the registrant in the presence of and before the registration officer, who will fill in the description of the registrant and superimpose the fixing of the finger prints and the attaching of the photographs. If the registrant can not write he must make his mark in the signature space, and affix his left thumb print in the space provided opposite the signature space.

The finger printing is a method of identification and follows the practice observed in the military and the naval service of the United States.

The registrant is hereby informed that he must again present himself before the registration officer who took his oath after 10 days but before 15 days from the last day fixed for registration in his registration district to obtain a registration card, upon which he must sign his name, or make his mark, and place his left thumb print in the presence of the registration officer.

ALBANY WOMAN DOING HER BIT

"More than a year ago I took a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy for gall stones, severe colic and stomach trouble and have been entirely well ever since. I have recommended it to many other stomach sufferers, as I felt it was my duty to tell them just how much good it has done me." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One does well convince or money refunded.

(International News Service.)

MORE STEEL PLANTS ARE EXEMPTED FROM ORDER.

(International News Service.)

Washington, Jan. 18.—Twenty-three of the leading steel plants of the country have been exempted from the provisions of the fuel administration's order creating 14 workless days. Announcement to this effect was made this afternoon by J. L. Replege, of the steel division of the council of national defense, following a conference with Fuel Administrator Garfield. The 23 plants named were in addition to the list given out last night.

Prominent Physician Discusses Calomel

Dr. William Brady in an article about calomel in the Atlanta Constitution recently said:

"Calomel is a cathartic and a very crude and superfluous one. It produces no special effect upon the liver or upon the secretion of bile. It has no more influence over biliousness than any other active physic. It is just the ancient standby, cheaper than most other physics and retained in use because old dogs seldom learn new tricks."

As a substitute for a poison like calomel modern physicians prescribe purely vegetable cathartics. Martin's Liver Medicine.

"He that has true and perfect charity seeks himself in no one thing, but desires only the glory of God in all things."

Beard received them at the door, while the receiving line included Mesdames E. H. and R. H. Allison, J. H. Calvin, W. Hubbard, Jerre Clark and J. W. Pipkin. Assisting in the dining room were Mesdames E. C. Payne, Vera Austelle, M. Harvey, J. L. Gunter and J. W. Cunningham. Mrs. B. Preult received the silver gifts that amounted to $85. In the breakfast room were two pairs of fleecy woolen blankets and many pairs of pillow cases, and towels. Mrs. W. R. Smith, with her usual grace, made each guest feel perfectly at home. In this she was capably assisted by her aunt, Mrs. Katherine Elder. The generosity of the people of the cities is heartily appreciated by the ladies of the Benevolent society, who are devoting time, love and talents to furthering hospital comforts.

Shut Down Order Is In Effect Today

(Continued from Page One.) powers, are pouring into that body by mail, by telegraph and by telephone and in person.

Meanwhile, Dr. Garfield stood pat. He has complete support in his latest move of the president and most of the cabinet members.

Members of the senate were exceedingly bitter over the fact that Dr. Garfield has defied them. The Hitchcock resolution, requesting a delay of five days in the order, passed by the overwhelming vote of 50 to 19, had no effect on the amended order. It was pointed out today that among the senators who voted for the Hitchcock resolution were practically all the administration's staunchest supporters. What they will do now is difficult to forecast, but that there will be reprisals is a certainty.

City Farmers Are Urged to Grow

ties showing the exact location of every vacant lot in the cities, and that the lots be let out to those who would work them as early as practicable.

At Birmingham, it was stated that a most approved system is now being put into effect for the cultivation of vacant lots, and the speaker advised that a man be sent to that city to study actual workings and report to this community. It was also advised that a man should be put in charge of the matter of getting seeds, seeing that they were planted and cultivated after the best plans.

Dairying Stressed.

One dairy cow was described by the speaker as producing as much human food in a year as is contained in the carcass of five 100-pound steers. Another cow was cited whose food products in a year are as great as the beef of four 1250-pound steers. It was shown from such figures as these that dairy farming is much more productive than regular stock farming, where cattle are raised for beef. It was advised that an organization be formed of the local dairymen for the purpose of increasing the output of their milk cows. The Hibcock tester, the food record and the milk record should be put to the milk of every cow, the speaker said. Great stress was laid on the importance of importing from high class dealers the very best bulls possible, as this, said the speaker, is the quickest, cheapest and most effective method of improving the milk producing herds.

The speaker said, in private conversation, that while we thought 90 bushels to the acre in wheat was fine that Germany's crack farmers get 200 bushels per acre. According to Mr. Wood, Germany produces twice as much per acre as we do, and also conserves much more of her products. "If," he said, "butter is now $2.25 per pound in Germany, sugar 56 cents a pound, and the like, what are we to expect better if the war goes on, unless we get a move on."

Street Cars to Run. Street cars will continue in operation, the following ruling having been made by John Patterson, local fuel administrator:

Alabama Power Company, City.

Gentlemen:—Insofar as pertains to the operation of street cars by the North Alabama Traction Company in this city, my interpretation of Dr. Garfield's order is, that the said North Alabama Traction Company will not be affected thereby, until Monday, January 21, 1918, and every Monday thereafter up to and including Monday, March 25, 1918.

My interpretation of said order, in so far as it pertains to the above mentioned days, is that said North Alabama Traction Company may operate their cars on the above mentioned days, for the same number of hours as they operate on Sundays, and that said North Alabama Traction Company may elect to run such hours as would best subserve the public.

Unless further advised by me, you will therefore furnish power to said North Alabama Traction Company on the days above referred to, and in an amount equal to that furnished them heretofore on Sundays and at such hours as they may elect.

(Signed) JOHN PATTERSON,

Chairman.

Hours Monday.

On each Monday, for the next two months, the street cars will observe their regular schedule during the daylight hours. Beginning Monday, Jan. 21, the last car will leave the end of the line at 8:20 p. m., transferring at 8:30, it was announced by W. R. Speer, manager of the traction company.

Doctors Say Calotabs Are Best For Colds

According to the world's greatest physicians and medical experts, calomel is the best and only dependable remedy for breaking up a cold overnight or cutting short an attack of sore throat, deep-seated cough or la grippe. Now that science has purified calomel of all its nausea and dangerous qualities, the new kind of calomel, called "Calotabs," is even more popular than the old style.

One Calotab on the tongue at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your diet, work or pleasures. Next morning your cold has vanished and your whole system is purified and refreshed.

Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your druggist recommends and guarantees Calotabs and will refund the price if you are not delighted with them. (Adv.)

Tennisons Appear in 'Somewhere in France'

Local Favorites Were in the Cast of Play Given at Masonic Last Night

"Our Boys, or Somewhere in France," the comedy-drama produced at the Masonic theatre last night, proved doubly pleasing because of the fact that Mr. and Mrs. William Tennison, who recently staged the black-face carnival here, were members of the cast. They played the respective roles of Col. and Mrs. Jackson. Mr. Tennison was especially effective in the dramatic situations, while Mrs. Tennison not only won applause by her clever acting but also wore some especially fetching costumes.

The play hinges around the present world struggle, and has to do with some treachery and much fighting. The villain at last dies from typhus and the hero and heroine terminate their buffeted courtship with the accustomed half Nelson. Realistic battle scenes, largely in the wings, where the roll of artillery and the cracking of rifles was heard, added to the intensity of the more pronounced situations. Khaki and cannon combined to embellish the production with that dash of war that is now the vogue.

Sam Park, author of the play, was especially well cast as Reginald Dwight, the English fob and rough rider, while F. L. Maddocks was at home in the role of Sergt. Micky O'Brien. Mr. Park also gave some dancing and singing specialties in the last act that were pleasing.

The scenic equipment and costumes were good, and the play as a whole well worth seeing.

BEFORE PROOF DEATH IS MADE, CHECK ARRIVES.

W. M. Chenault, local agent of the Gulf Coast Life Insurance Company, is in receipt of a check for $2,000, payable to Mrs. Lillian Fuller, who resides ten miles out on the Moulton pike. This check is in payment of life insurance on the late Ira J. Fuller, in favor of his mother, and reached Mr. Chenault before proof of death was made. The promptness with which this claim is paid is most commendable in any company.

BLENDED ART WITH ECONOMY

Combining art and economy, the skillful designer of the above story and a half home was able to get the full floor space of an eight-room two-story, and by a proper arrangement of the windows, he gave the upper rooms adequate ventilation and light for the most extreme southern climate.

The conveniences and comfort would be the inside features of this home. Did not "inside beauty" dispute this claim, and one is not quite able to say which is deserving of such recognition.

The large inviting living room with its beautiful beam ceiling and grand old open hearth is given added charm by a harmonious arrangement of similar beam ceiling in the dining room on the left.

The kitchen is virtually a built-in cabinet, wherein a place for everything has been provided.

With the guest room down-stairs and four well ventilated bed rooms up-stairs, all conveniently assembled around a bath room, apparently this is all one could desire in a home. But the designer didn't let "well enough alone" for the two front bed-rooms each have delightful window seats in them to add to their charm together with French window openings upon the balcony which speaks for itself.

Look at it.

"Home Builders are Opportunists Not Luckists!"

Regrets do not bring back opportunities. We are prone to look back and complain over the mistakes we have made instead of looking forward and make opportunities for the future. We often mistake foresight for luck; recalling that old but true saying "That if one's foresight was as keen as their hindsight there would not be regrets."

Never in the history of the business world was there a better opportunity for home building than at present.

American architecture has reached a standard. After various and sundry experiments, our architects have found a basis for a standard, so that homes built at the present time will not deteriorate in price as time goes on for the reason of being out of date. Of course there will be added from time to time new, individual designs, but they will harmonize with the present day styles and not contrast to the detriment of the older homes.

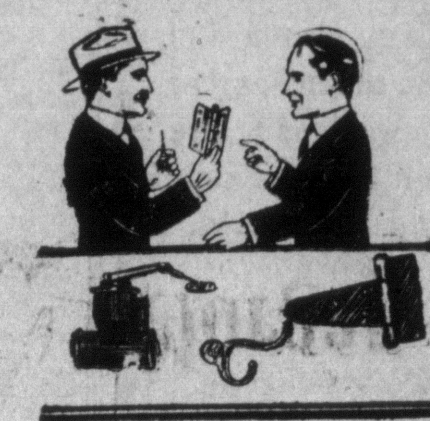

There is not a city, town or village in the United States that is not increasing in population and the larger a town grows the more valuable land becomes. Lots increase in price faster than the average citizen can comprehend, usually their enhancement is not realized until the price becomes prohibitive for the man of moderate means. Now is the time foresight should be exercised—buy and build when land is cheap.

Another point must be considered—namely, the increase of our population by immigration from foreign countries after the ending of the great war. Students of this question estimate that America's population will increase at least fifteen per cent in five years, every section of our country will bear its part of the increase.

Foreigners buy homes. It's an opportunity denied them in their native land. That is one of the reasons they journeyed to our country. Let us cite an example: A census was taken recently in a tax collector's office of a western city; out of fifty foreigners paying taxes on homes, thirty had been in the United States eight years, twelve 6 years, and eight 4 years and less. They had made most of their opportunities, exercised foresight, self denial and patience. Had they any regrets? No! Everyone was proud to be a home-owner in good old U. S. A.

Don't you think you could learn a lesson from that census?

Everything in Hardware for Builders

It is the most important to select the best hardware for that new home or building. That brings you here, for we make a point of carrying nothing but the best builder's hardware that adds not only to the beauty of a building but to its selling value as well.

The Sash and door Locks, Hinges, Etc., are a very small part of a building, but will repay many times for the cost and trouble of proper selection. Cheap goods are a continual source of trouble and worry.

We are prepared to name interesting prices on the complete hardware for any style of building from the humble cottage to the largest office building.

Yes sir! We also sell the best building Tools—all moderately priced.
